

2013 United Way Agency Program Directory

OUR COMMUNITY'S AGENDA FOR CHANGE

EDUCATION

- Students succeed academically and graduate from high school, regardless of race.
- Children are cared for and have fun as they become prepared for school.

SAFETY

- There is a decrease in family homelessness.
- There is a reduction in violence toward individuals and families.

HEALTH

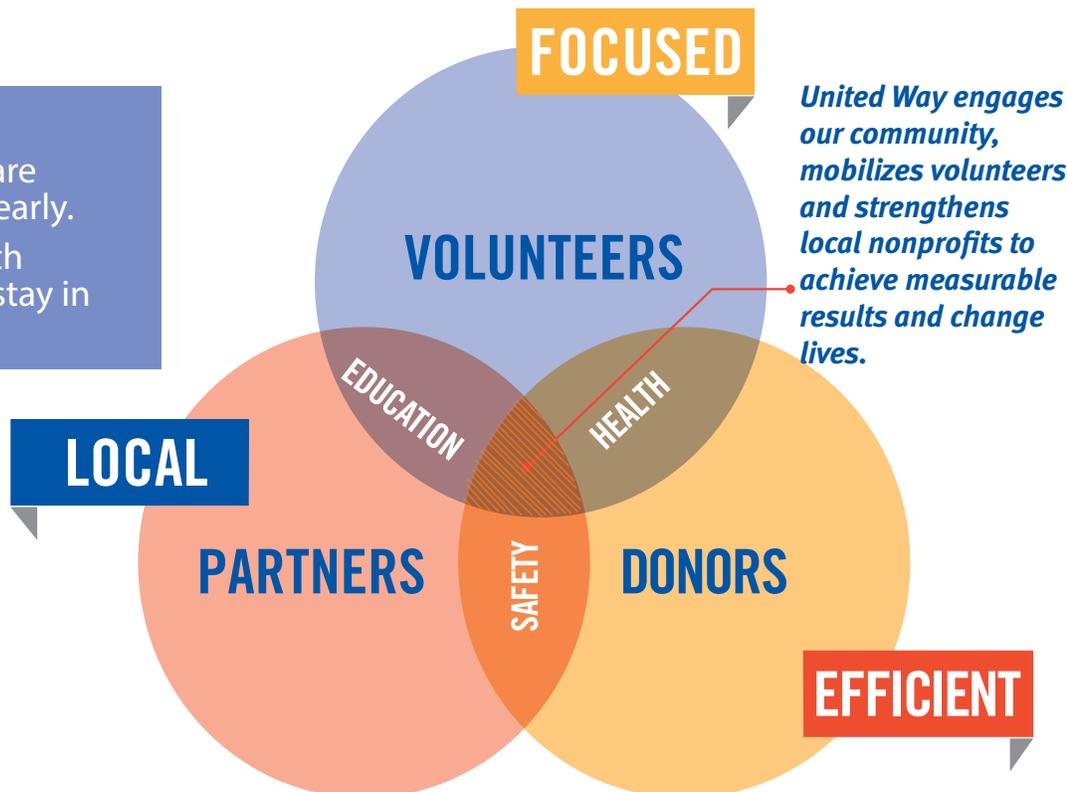

- People's health issues are identified and treated early.
- Seniors and people with disabilities are able to stay in their homes.

Ensuring Results: Your Contributions At Work

Your unrestricted gifts, volunteer support and other resources are strategically invested in effective, research-based programs and initiatives right here in Dane County.

These Agenda for Change investments reduce and eliminate the underlying causes of problems in the three priority areas of Education, Safety and Health so that people's lives are changed.

HOW IT'S DONE

United Way

Initiatives

At United Way of Dane County, our objective is results. We invest the community's charitable contributions to yield meaningful, sustainable change in the quality of lives and communities. United Way of Dane County is actively developing new partnerships in the areas of decreasing homelessness, developing our youth and adults as leaders in the community and ensuring accessible services for our seniors and persons with disabilities. The initiatives listed are those in place at the time this publication was created.

BORN LEARNING

Beginning in 2008, United Way of Dane County launched the Born Learning initiative with a focus on increasing the percentage of children entering kindergarten with the skills needed to be successful in school. This will be accomplished through screenings at critical stages of their development, identifying and providing interventions for developmental delays at an early stage, as well as providing caregivers with information and support about appropriate development (birth to 5) and what they can do to encourage that development. Our Mobile Play and Learn is one of the strategies being used to reach family, friend and neighbor caregivers with support and critical information on how to help their children develop the appropriate skills to be ready to start school. Contact: Kathy Hubbard, (608) 246-4373, khubbard@uwdc.org

ACHIEVEMENT CONNECTIONS

In 2008, United Way of Dane County launched the Achievement Connections initiative with a focus on reducing the truancy rate in Dane County schools and increasing the high school graduation rate. Our pilot communities, Oregon and Middleton/Cross Plains, began the 2008-2009 school year implementing strategies that screen and treat middle school students for mental health issues, support parents in their struggles to help their children and bring volunteer tutors/graduation mentors to the children who need that support starting in the sixth grade. We added the Madison Metropolitan School District in 2010. Contact: Angela Jones, (608) 246-4376, angelajones@uwdc.org

SCHOOLS OF HOPE

Since 1995, United Way, in collaboration with other community partners, has focused on improving the academic achievement of students of color and narrowing the gap between African American, Hispanic, Asian and Native American students and their white peers. The collaboration includes a significant tutoring effort to help elementary students learn to read at grade level by third grade. Contact: Kathy Hubbard, (608) 246-4373, khubbard@uwdc.org

BY YOUTH FOR YOUTH (BYFY)

In partnership with Oscar Mayer/Kraft Foods, the Dane County Youth Commission and the City of Madison, a committee of Dane County high school students meets each year from October through April. These students develop guidelines and priorities for programs they wish to fund, compose a request for proposals, review written proposals from a variety of youth groups, and make funding recommendations for youth initiatives. Contact: Lauren Martin, (608) 246-5488, lmartin@uwdc.org

HOUSING IN ACTION

The Housing in Action Leadership Team (HALT), led by United Way, is focused on decreasing homelessness and increasing affordable housing. With representatives from government, banking, real estate, education and the non-profit sector, this diverse group is combining their knowledge, skills and resources to tackle these important issues. Their mobilization plan is instituting strategies focused on landlord and tenant connections, financial counseling, food access and direct access to permanent housing. Through these efforts and others we can reduce the number of homeless families with minor children in Dane County by 50% in five years. Contact: Martha Cranley, (608) 246-4353, mcranley@uwdc.org

HERE!

In 2013, in response to the MMSD data on chronic absenteeism the HERE! Advisory Council was established in partnership with MMSD to research the issue of chronic absenteeism and develop strategies to improve attendance, particularly at the kindergarten level. Contact: Angela Jones, (608) 246-4376, angelajones@uwdc.org

THE JOURNEY HOME

This initiative, which began in 2005, strives to prevent prisoners who have completed their sentences and are coming home to Dane County from reoffending and returning to prison. Through the REST strategies —residency, employment, support and treatment— this effort has significantly reduced the recidivism percentages for those prisoners that stay involved with the program. Contact: Angela Jones, (608) 246-4376 angelajones@uwdc.org

SAFE AND HEALTHY AGING

This initiative aims to keep seniors safe, healthy, and independent by reducing the rate of adverse drug events (ADEs) and falls by 15% by 2015. Falls and adverse drug events are found to be the two triggers of functional decline of aging adults. The Safe and Healthy Aging initiative is comprised of four strategies, with identification and assessment of ADEs being the key strategy, that bring together health care providers, community-based pharmacists, social service providers, caregivers, media, and United Way 211. Contact: Toya Johnson, (608) 246-5499 tjohnson@uwdc.org

HIRE EDUCATION EMPLOYMENT INITIATIVE

New collaboration that aims to increase the number of people with a GED/HSED and find employment. HIRE involves nine different agencies that help individuals ages 18+ find and maintain employment. Contact: Angela Jones, (608) 246-4376 angelajones@uwdc.org

SERVICES

UNITED WAY 2-1-1

United Way 2-1-1 is a 24-hour, 365-day, free and confidential telephone information and referral service for people in Dane County who are in need of help or who want to give help. More than 2,400 social-service agencies, food pantries and other organizations are part of the 2-1-1 database.

VOLUNTEER CENTER

Through the United Way Volunteer Center, community needs are addressed by matching adults, youth, families, employee teams and groups with hundreds of registered volunteer opportunities. These opportunities are also available online through United Way of Dane County's website, www.unitedwaydanecounty.org. Once you are on the website, use the left-side menu to click on Get Involved, and then VolunteerYourTime to be taken to this interactive site. The Volunteer Center also works with agencies to ensure there are appropriate and meaningful volunteer opportunities.

Alternatives to Aggression: Adult

Offers counseling for men and women involved in family violence. The goal of the program is to prevent the occurrence of domestic abuse and to support victims as they overcome the trauma of abuse.

Trauma Informed Family Programming

Provides outpatient mental health services to children and families with mental health and behavioral disorders most often the result of trauma. Client experiences include childhood abuse and neglect, family separations, and domestic violence resulting in depression, anxiety, attachment issues, difficulty forming and maintaining relationships, difficulty with developmental transitions, self-injurious behaviors, and poor academic performance. Trauma informed therapy helps children and parents learn effective coping skills which lead to improved functioning at home, in school and in the community. The impact is that children will be prepared for school and can form healthy relationships and that parents are educated on parenting strategies, child development including appropriate expectations and discipline and will provide a healthy environment for their family.
