DONOR NETWORK AMBASSADOR

Help us Build Connections, Create Belonging and Celebrate our Impact

Donor Network Ambassadors are trusted connectors, storytellers and champions for the work our members collectively invest in. They play a vital role in creating belonging and community with our members and invite others to learn more about our impact.

Our donor network is vast and includes leaders across private and public industries who care about our neighbors and choose to invest in community well-being. We create opportunities to gather, build meaningful relationships, learn from each other and connect over the outcomes of our collective giving. Ambassadors help us amplify that message and get to know our volunteer leadership driving this work.

Responsibilities and time commitments are flexible and set by each Ambassador, and we encourage creativity to shape this role and its responsibilities to align with your workplace culture.

Minimum Commitment

- Engage with our leadership Council twice per year to connect and feel supported in your role
- Engage current members in your workplace (if applicable) and beyond
- Help us grow by engaging those who align with our mission
- Share our social media posts (and create your own) to help us create more visibility of our work
- Represent our network of leaders by attending our events and inviting others to join you

Currently Recruiting

We're looking for members of these networks who want to get more involved in our work.

- Lead United Ambassadors: largest donor network, approximately 1,500 households giving $1,000+
- Women United Ambassadors: investing in women's financial security, suggested gift of $1,000+

Professional Development

- Relationship development and management
- Communication
- Time management
- Expand your local network
