Your Impact

Your Company
- Workplace volunteerism supports your company's corporate and social responsibility goals.
- Offering volunteer opportunities is an effective employee engagement tool – employees say their job is more fulfilling when they are provided opportunities to make a positive impact on social issues.
- Employees who volunteer report that volunteering improves their teamwork, time management and people skills and strengthens relationships among colleagues.

Our Community
- Your investment will support the financial stability and well-being of hundreds of local families. More than 61,000 people in Dane County are experiencing poverty, including more than 12,000 children.
- The time given by your employees is a valuable asset, supporting our nonprofit partners and helping them serve more people in our community.
- Volunteering helps make our community stronger – people who volunteer report feeling healthier, have improved moods and say that volunteering lowers their stress levels.

Our community's greatest resource is our people, and when people's potential, talent and skills are maximized, we build a Dane County where everyone can succeed in school, work and life.
