

Returning Prisoner Simulation

NOW BOOKING FOR 2019

Madison-area Urban Ministry's Returning Prisoner Simulation gives participants an "up close" view of what it's like to return to a community after incarceration.

By incorporation the restorative practice of storytelling, the simulation opens a glimpse into the sense of overwhelming frustration that a newly released prisoner may feel.

Directly after the role-play, a facilitated debriefing by the simulation Director allows participants to share their immediate reactions. The simulation concludes with a panel of formerly incarcerated people who each share their own re-entry journey and then answer questions from participants.

Take a walk in the shoes of a person just released from prison...
Will you find your way?

"It was a real eye-opener for me.

I've heard that it's difficult for former prisoners to re-establish themselves in the community, but I had no idea until I tried." -WI Circuit Court Judge

"You taught me something I didn't even know I had to learn—

This made me understand the deepest recesses of my heart and how important we all are to each other no matter what our circumstances..."

"A powerful example of what recently released people experience—It made me understand why people give up."

Bring this one of a kind learning experience to your organization, business, or campus!
We will come to you!
